This is our first time submitting a paper to your esteemed journal, WSEAS Transactions on Computer Research. We would like to express our sincere appreciation for the thorough and constructive review process. The feedback provided by the reviewers was invaluable in helping us refine our work. Their insightful comments highlighted areas for improvement, particularly in the methodology section, which we have since made more descriptive, and in reinforcing the results, which we have addressed with careful revisions. We are grateful for the opportunity to improve our paper and thank you for your cooperation and professionalism.
