I have a co-authored paper in WSEAS Transactions on Environment and Development in 2022. I believe that the review process of the papers in WSEAS Journals is fair and strong. The comments we received from three reviewers are useful and very informative to improve the quality and presentation of the paper. I am very thankful to WSEAS journal, for the invitation of the submission with free publication fees. I strongly believe that the young researchers will be motivated to submit papers in WSEAS journals.
