Dear all,

I am highly impressed with the professionalism and efficiency demonstrated by WSEAS Journals in the review and publication process of scientific articles. When I submitted a mathematical article focused on Artificial Intelligence, the editor kept me consistently informed about the progress of my submission and promptly addressed any inquiries I had. The feedback provided by six reviewers was both constructive and respectful, greatly assisting us in highlighting the technical innovation of our work. Therefore, I strongly recommend the WSEAS Transactions on Mathematics journal to fellow academics seeking a reliable platform to publish their research.
