Additional comments from the authors:

1. We have implemented all the comments and suggestions by modifying and rewriting what we had written earlier & including new materials and references as suggested by the reviewers.
2. We are thankful to the Editorial team for the plagiarism/similarity index report. We have gone through the manuscript and to reduce the similarity index as much as possible. We used Turnitin to check for the similarity index. We have reduced the similarity index to 11%.
3. We submitted a manuscript for the first time to the WSEAS Transactions of Fluid Mechanics. We have the best of the impressions for the review process in the journal. The review process was a real and rigorous peer review process. We would like to express our heartfelt thanks and great respect for your remarks. All three reviewers showed us aspects to improve our paper. The criticisms and suggestions were constructive and went a long way in improving the quality of the paper. We are immensely thankful to the assistant Editor and the three reviewers for their valuable comments.
