“ I am very grateful for the insights gained from the review process. The comments have allowed for a better explanation of the paper and an improvement. In reality any paper will have mistakes and parts that are unclear. It is difficult for the author or authors to clarify this. An external reviewer can pinpoint these issues thus the author can then review the paper and come up with much better works and explanations. Having three or more reviewers check the paper is very good. The reviewing process has greatly encouraged me to improve the complete paper and come up with much better work. The quality of the WSEAS papers is very good and I am happy with the turnitin checking for plagiarism which shows very high quality.
