This is my first experience with the WSEAS publisher. I have always heard of their good reputation, and today I am making sure of that through my first work with them. However, I can see that the good reputation of WSEAS is reflected in the quality of their scientific papers and in professional handling of the editorial team (as well the managing department).

Finally, I want to congratulate the WSEAS, which is a genuine, professional society and a club of excellent researchers. We really look forward to working with them again.

Cordially,
Dr. Ilyas Haouam
